PRODUCT DATA SHEET

As an integral component of Newdea's social impact platform, Grantor Center for Governments connects you directly to the results of your grants -- creating transparency, efficiency and collaboration with the organizations you support.

Grantor Center for Governments uses a Software-as-a-Service (SaaS) model which provides real-time information that is accessed from anywhere, anytime, over the Internet. Understanding the benefits and returns of your granting strategies no longer needs to be an unattainable challenge. Grantor Center for Governments empowers you to understand and influence the impact you are making, now.

Key BENEFITS:

» Establishes transparency, accountability and a commitment to social impact with your communities, taxpayers or other critical constituents with measurements and milestones that help define and track success.

» Illuminates whether programs are being managed to their outcome objectives.

» Creates a streamlined grant application and evaluation process that facilitates well-informed grant decisions and future grant disbursements based on past performance and real-time information.

» Measures and optimizes overall program area performance by aggregating indicators across organizations, helping you identify best practices as well as overlap.

» Makes an investment in upgraded infrastructure that positions organizations you support to grow and evolve efficiently while achieving greater impact.

» Cultivates an ongoing collaborative relationship with grant recipients with the goal of improving overall effectiveness and internal efficiency – giving beyond the grant.

» Minimizes IT resource requirements, risk and complexity while increasing agility through a powerful Cloud platform. Alleviates costs, bottle-necks, downtime, and potential data loss associated with managing your own special hardware, databases, installations, and downloads.

Key FEATURES:

» Role-based user dashboards help you manage the life cycle of your grants from application to award to monitoring their progress relative to your program area objectives.

» Application questions are defined by you as well as prequalification forms to filter applicants before allowing grant applications to proceed. The application can be linked from your website and branded with your look and feel.

» Grants can be allocated to a specific project, multiple projects, or to an overall organization.

» Indicators can be aggregated to provide holistic views of program area performance.

» Portfolio reports can be dynamically generated to produce a comprehensive snapshot of the big picture as well as specific projects.

» Information such as grant guidelines, milestones, measurements, and documents can be shared in real time with your recipients and built-in messaging capabilities enhance collaboration.

» You can enable grant recipients to use Newdea's integrated program management and M&E solutions to more effectively measure and communicate their progress and learning on the projects you've funded.
